Do you think all CPA/Consulting firms are pretty much alike? Do you think that all CPA firms are traditional, conservative and not flexible or fun? Think again. We're not just "bean counters" after all! We love to have fun too. In fact, we have a couple of company sponsored family trips every year, and the team gets together outside of work once a month or so to just work on crafts / hobbies / or play games; and, of course, we EAT! Weekly team meetings are not only very educational, but most times, very entertaining as well.
